Q COLLECTIVE

We are challenged by a world poised “at the edge of chaos” that has become complex, uncertain, and interdependent. This poses both grave dangers and great opportunities. We need a new breed of leaders, inspired with positive motivations and a commitment to serve. We need leaders with open minds and capable of critical thinking who are driven by passion, an awe for “What might be,” and a powerful sense of purpose.

Rapid technological changes, accompanied by changing life styles and patterns of work, require that we all learn new adaptive skills and grow the boundaries of our consciousness. Leaders must design and guide their organisations to thrive on uncertainty and rapid change, with flexible infrastructures and work processes that can respond to them with ever-creative spontaneity.

We have moved from the Newtonian age of machines to a new Quantum Age of digital and other quantum technology. This requires accompanying quantum leadership skills. Many successful companies and organisations are adopting the practices and principles of Quantum Leadership and putting in place new business models and radical transformation programs.

I ask you join this work with me in building the Q Collective, a community of makers and leaders co-creating new realities, learning from each other, and cooperating to give ourselves and future generations the gift of a prosperous, meaningful, and sustainable world. In the words of Jim Morrison, let us, together, “break on through to the other side”.

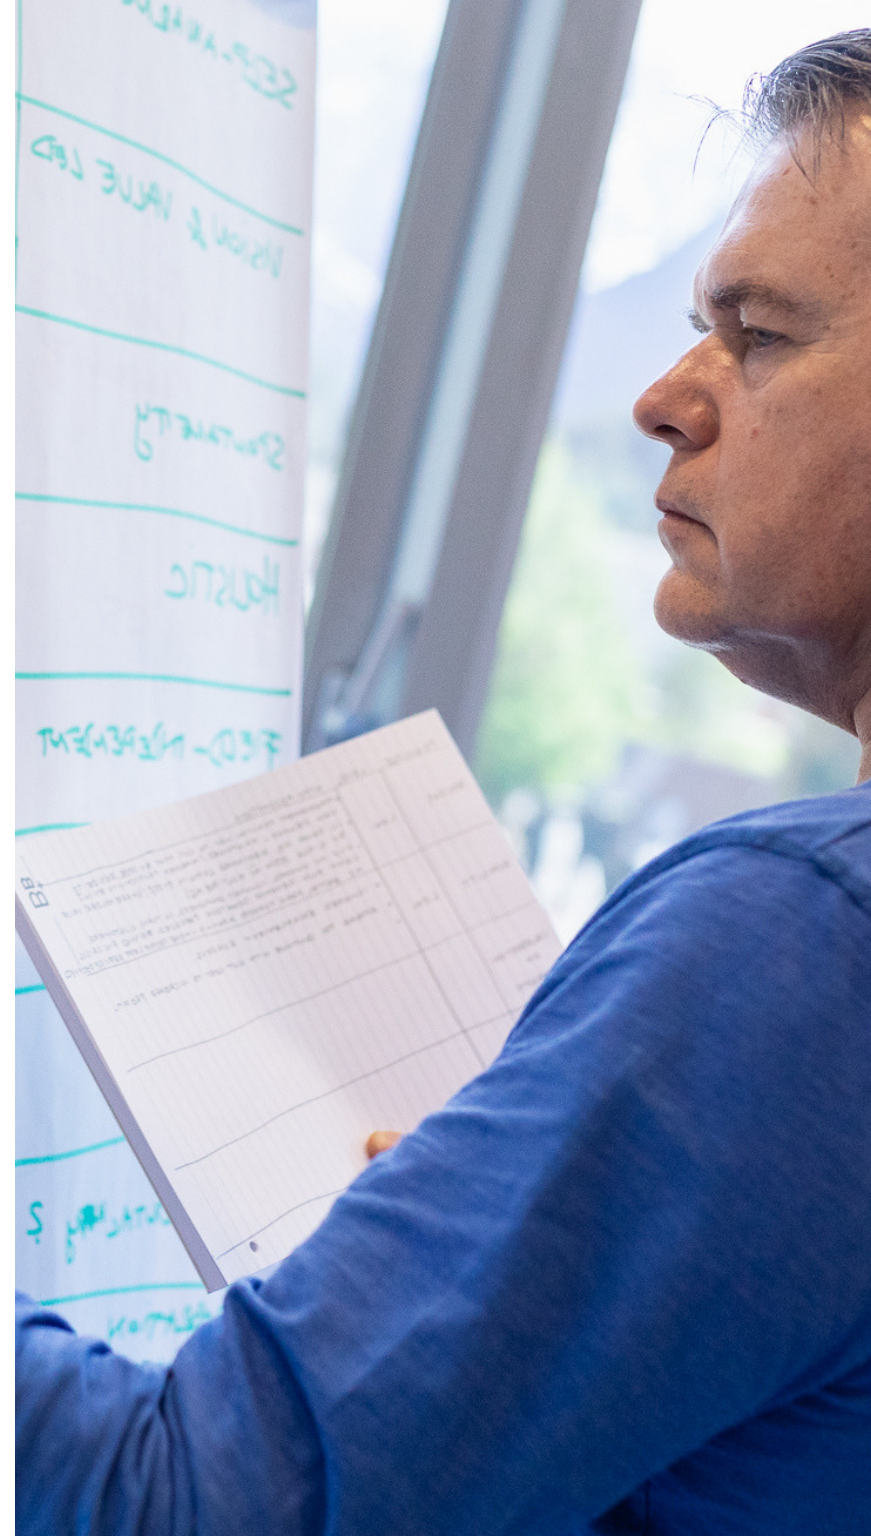

Namaste!

Q'S FOR GREAT LEADERSHIP

“Throughout our careers, we encountered many management theories and tested them in our work with helping teams transform at breaking points of their development. The one most aligned with our value system and with proven effects was the holistic quantum leadership theory by our mentor, business partner and friend prof Danah Zohar.

It has been a privilege to learn and work with the best companies, organizations and individual leaders adopting the principles of quantum leadership in their organizations. We learn and co-create with our partners to bring out the best in people in order to seize the opportunities invisible to classical organizations. Because there is no single recipe, no single paradigm, just a vast field of opportunities waiting to be seized by leaders with ambitious teams that are willing to constantly develop and learn, stand by their convictions and contribute to the creation of a higher purpose.

Ksenija Špiler Božič and Andrej Božič, BB Consulting, the team behind the transformations
